

Even if you were born for something you still have to learn how to do it.

If you think for too long about a missed opportunity, chances are you'll miss the next one too.

Never punish the next person because of the actions of the previous person. Each relationship is a clean slate.

Most conflict happens when an under-reaction collides with an over reaction.

There are two types of leaders. Those who love power and those who love people.

Leadership is not about turning something small into something big. It's about turning something lonely into something loved.

2 Kings 8:1-6 Now Elisha spoke to the woman whose son he had restored to life, saying, "Arise and go with your household, and sojourn wherever you can sojourn; for the Lord has called for a famine, and it will even come on the land for seven years." ² So the woman arose and did according to the word of the man of God, and she went with her household and sojourned in the land of the Philistines seven years. ³ At the end of seven years, the woman returned from the land of the Philistines; and she went out to appeal to the king for her house and for her field. ⁴ Now the king was talking with Gehazi, the servant of the man of God, saying, "Please relate to me all the great things that Elisha has done." ⁵ As he was relating to the king how he had restored to life the one who was dead, behold, the woman whose son he had restored to life appealed to the king for her house and for her field. And Gehazi said, "My lord, O king, this is the woman and this is her son, whom Elisha restored to life." ⁶ When the king asked the woman, she related it to him. So the king appointed for her a certain officer, saying, "Restore all that was hers and all the produce of the field from the day that she left the land even until now."

Nobody gets to live a 'linear' life.

Barrenness
Crisis
Hope
Obscurity
